We invite contributions for the upcoming issues of ENVIS Bulletin, Vol. 30, 2022

Human beings are getting cut-off from nature and all natural processes in life which is creating an imbalance in all planetary processes including the human lifestyle. We need to connect people with nature and natural environment instead of creating an artificial environment.

The health of the earth is dependent on the balance of biodiversity on this earth. However, our need for food, fodder, fuel, water is going beyond what the Earth can provide so, human beings are creating artificial substitute which in the long run is harming the human beings through unknown diseases and impacting mental and physical well being like never before.

It was the clarion call from our Prime Minister at the Glasgow CoP-26 meeting where he shared the mantra of LIFE “Life Style for Environment”- to combat climate change.

In view of the above, the ENVIS centre on Himalayan Ecology, GBPNIHE, Kosi-Katarmal, Almora is now inviting article for a special issue of ENVIS Bulletin Vol. 30, 2022 for each and every aspect of Himalayan Ecology on following themes;
