

About the Bulletin

Environmental Information System (ENVIS) Bulletin on Himalayan Ecology is an annual non-priced publication of the ENVIS Centre, which was established at the headquarters of the G.B. Pant National Institute of Himalayan Environment and Sustainable Development (GBPNIHESD) in the financial year 1992-93 with the fiscal support from the Ministry of Environment, Forest & Climate Change (MoEF&CC), Government of India, New Delhi.

The present volume of the ENVIS Bulletin is 25th in the series of its annual publications and contains 27 selected papers on diverse aspects of Himalayan ecology and environment. The bulletin is divided into two sections: (i) Himalayan Ecology and Environment; and (ii) Biodiversity Conservation and Management. Articles range from water resource management with particular focus on impact of climate change on glaciers, water quality, forest structure and function, biodiversity conservation, lichens, orchids and medicinal plants. In these articles emphasis has been given for strengthening social linkages of research work on Himalayan region. The news and views offered in the papers in this publication are the views of the concerned authors. Therefore, they do not necessarily reflect the views of the editors, ENVIS Centre and Institute. The content of the Bulletin may be quoted or reproduced for non-commercial use provided the source is duly acknowledged.

The contributions to the next issue of the Bulletin in the form of a research paper, popular article, news item and technical report, etc., related to "Biodiversity, Forest Conservation & Management" are invited until August-end. However, the matter supplied by the individual/organization may be edited for length and clarity. Request for institutional subscription of the Bulletin may be sent to the ENVIS-Coordinator. The comments/suggestions for further improvement of the Bulletin are welcome.
